Reaching Heights Summer Music Camp

Middle school instrumental music students are invited to spend a fun-filled week exploring music at the Reaching Heights Summer Music Camp. Campers will perform in an orchestra and in chamber groups, learn music theory, and participate in an elective of jazz, ukulele, percussion, or choir. Cleveland Heights-University Heights music faculty, community musicians, and college and high school students provide individualized support and expert coaching and instruction. Campers make great music, and have fun with friends from across the CH-UH school district.
